

PLAYSHARE : VOLUME ONE

“Youth Theatre and the writing of plays for young people should be proportionate to what’s happening in youth culture and the world they live in – and what’s happening is dramatic”. – Paul Mercier

Play Share Volume 1 is a collection of plays for performance for young people, written by established playwrights; five challenging and entertaining works for young performers, exploring issues of love, death, loyalty, friendship, violence, and the struggle to be true to oneself in the face of social pressures.

With cast sizes of eight to sixteen characters, a variety of settings from a side-street in Galway to a Dublin estate to a Paris hostel, and styles ranging from gritty realism to a rhythm piece to impressionistic ensemble work, Playshare presents a series of comic and tragic contemporary tales for youth theatre and drama groups.

The cost of the publication is €10 plus €2.40 post and packaging.

Playshare is an initiative of the National Association For Youth Drama.
